Name of the teacher:

Fernando Naranjo Molina

Brief CV:

Degree in Biology (University of Extremadura). Expert in creation and management of SMEs. More than 12 years of professional experience in training consultancy. Teacher in environmental and technological issues.

- How often do you use the tool?

The last course I used it for was about Regional Laws of Radiation and Radiofrequencies. My students were middle educational level, about 35 years old.

- What tip would you give to other teachers regarding this tool?

It is very affordable, free plans and paid ones. I love how the content is displayed in mobile phones. Content could be linked to Moodle courses or send by another method (as email)

- For what purpose?

I learned about ISSUU in an online course. I choose ISSUU among other tools because of its simplicity, its cost, and the perfect generation of content: it is identical to the original document.

I use it to compile reports and articles of a specific theme, allowing my online students to get it thought Moodle courses.

Name of the teacher:

Nikos Voyiatzis

Brief CV:

He is an adult teacher and trainer over the past 6 years. He is a Librarian (BSc) with an expertise in Media Art and Communication (MSc). He has been teaching in VET schools as well as in Cultural Institutes. His subject is about Designing and Implementing online art workshops, Developing electronic information interfaces and collaborative art archiving.

- How often do you use the tool?

Almost once a month.

- What tip would you give to other teachers regarding this tool?

Dealing with optimised content is always a challenge in class. Students are impressed when creating such digitalised outputs that can save their time and are available online. The only tip I could give would be to try the paid version – it is worth it!

- For what purpose?

I teach web designing so besides the already existing tools that are specialised in visual designing I find it interesting to discover new online tools. Issuu can be a pretty good choice!
